ABOUT DISTANCE LEARNING

In our continuous efforts to improve safety and operations in the fire service through education, training, risk management and insurance programs, VFIS has joined forces with St. Joseph’s University in Philadelphia, PA in the development of a distance-learning program, now available at <http://vfis.sju.edu>

Without question, distance learning is the method of education and training for the future and VFIS is now poised to offer programs in this fashion as well as traditional classroom training. Courses traditionally taken in the classroom have the opportunity to be converted to a computer-based application, making training more available to public safety personnel to take the program at your own pace.

These courses are designed to be taken in your location and at your convenience. In many cases, courses have the capability to allow you to include your department’s specific guidelines and officer sign-off. Our distance-learning courses offer everything you would find in the classroom, minus, of course, the actual instructor. You will receive a certificate of course completion upon passing the online assessment.

For more information on our distance learning programs, please contact your VFIS Sales Executive or Education, Training, and Consulting Staff, or your local agent.

REGISTER NOW

Visit <http://vfis.sju.edu> and complete a profile to begin accessing your course of interest. First, you need to create a profile on this website and confirm your account before you will be able to access any course materials. Add the course(s) you wish to purchase to your cart and complete the checkout process. You can add as many courses as you want to in a single checkout process. Download the materials (videos, documents, etc.) and review them. When you are comfortable with the material, proceed to take the assessment for the course (if available).

If you are a current VFIS insurance customer, the risk management on-line courses are available to you at no cost. You will need a code during the checkout process to receive the no cost rate.

Please note that a separate code will be required for each course. Please contact VFIS Client Services at 1.800.233.1957, extension 7964 for further information.

All courses will consist of a series of instructions in document and/or video format.

Please review our system requirements so that you can have the best experience possible with our course offerings.

Scan this code with your smartphone to visit our Distance Learning website.
