

Strategic Planning in Emergency

Start Date: 12/8/2020 7:00 PM

End Date: 12/8/2020 8:00 PM

Success in the business of emergency services – whether fire, EMS or dispatch – is based on some type of planning process. The plan provides a roadmap for the ESO to follow even as changes to personnel occur either through attrition or election of officers. Limited funding, competition for municipal resources and extreme competition in fundraising makes the planning process even more important than ever. Strategic plans lay the groundwork for effective organizational management and performance. This session will provide an overview on the development of a strategic planning process.
